Make sure your research insights are up to date

Users' needs change over time. You should regularly conduct new research to make sure your products and services are still relevant to your users.

Instead of saying:

❌ We did some research on this 5 years ago, so we know our users' needs.

Say:

✅ Our research is now 5 years old. We must check whether our users' needs have changed.